Git Activity

Objective: Simulate combining multiple commits into a single logical unit while maintaining a clean Git history.

Scenario: You have a local branch with several commits representing ongoing development.
You want to:

1. Consolidate changes: Group-related modifications from the existing commits into a single commit on a new branch.
2. Maintain clear history: Avoid directly squashing commits as it can become messy and lead to issues in collaborative environments.